Tolu:

1) my comments about the homepage stand (I'm not huge into the script typeface you're using right now, also might like some asymmetry with the pizzas)
2) the navigation and pics look great! it seems like the content pages maybe just aren't finished? so there isn't really much I can say for those other than that you might want to look for a different serif face than times new roman (which I think is what you're using right now)
3) I think on the "best of" page it could be nice to add some kind of hover effect to the logos so it's clear that they're links
4) on the ingredients page it seems like the margins are really tight on the right and bottom so maybe loosen those a little, but it looks really good!
5) I love the pizza icon in the top left!
